The Womb - of Bliss & Pain

We wish this week we could bring forth the same laughter and the joy of cure.

But if there is one thing the book- Meditation The Cure teaches us, it's the way of nature that bliss and pain are cyclic.

This week we failed more than we succeeded AND we survived more than we surrendered.

As the curve of bliss began to move south- we consolidate the week and await the arrival at pain.

Yes, this last week we did celebrate each insight, each step forward in the production of the sleep app. But as nature revealed its sense of humor, ours took a back seat.

We are only humans - failing and learning is how we grow, and grow we will. As we evolve each day with the ebbs and flows of nature.

Picture this:

Loneliness and Unworthiness, the 2 sisters, were working on finalizing an animator.

Loneliness goes to her elder sister unworthiness and says:

I love the colors that this artist is using. Why don't you talk to him and see if he is interested to join us?

Unworthiness- Come on Loneliness, I was saying the same thing. I love his work. Why don't you approach him?

If Loneliness approaches - what do you think will be the outcome?

If Unworthiness approaches - same, your views of the outcome?

Share your views on Curedemy Library or info@nvlife.net and next week we will let you know Naveen Varshneya's take on the scenario.

Sleep is a process much like the Cinderella story. She must return home by midnight. Or else the magic spell might end. Such is the case with sleep. We must return home to unconsciousness every night for specific hours or turn poor after the spell ends.

Research & Insights

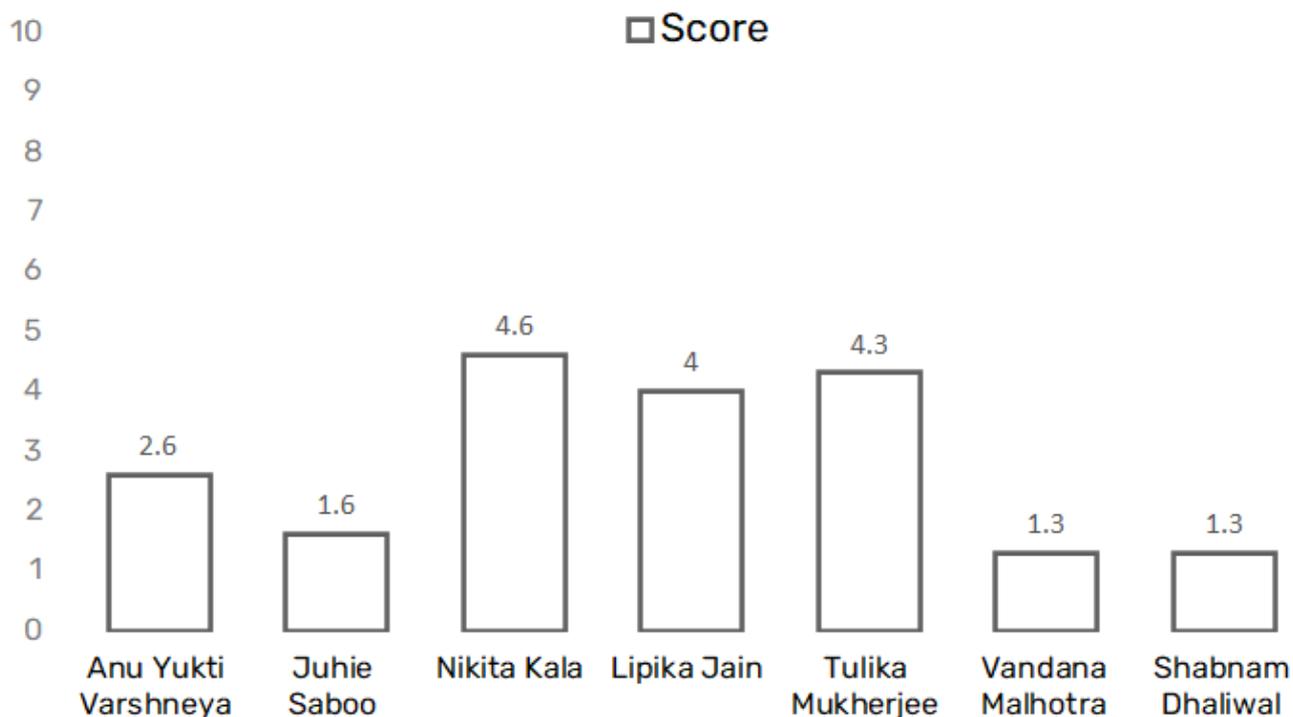

We discovered the science behind various mind types. One of them was a fragile mind. It is observed that such a mind type is a highly reactive mind, which can break down upon a small trigger and begins to display an enormous range of emotions.

Such a phenomenon occurs because it has gone through an enormous amount of trauma in childhood.

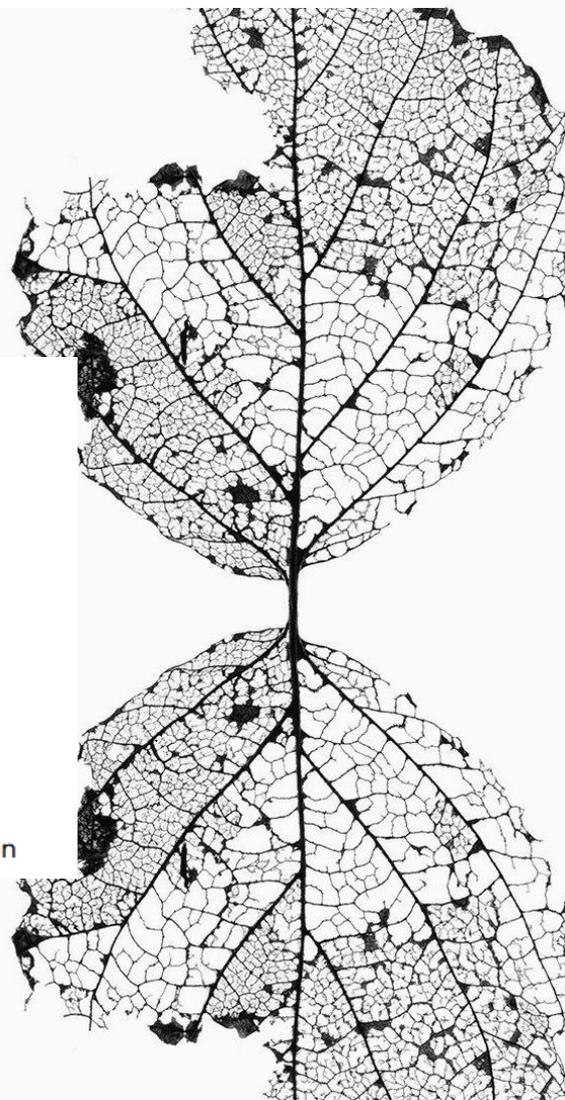

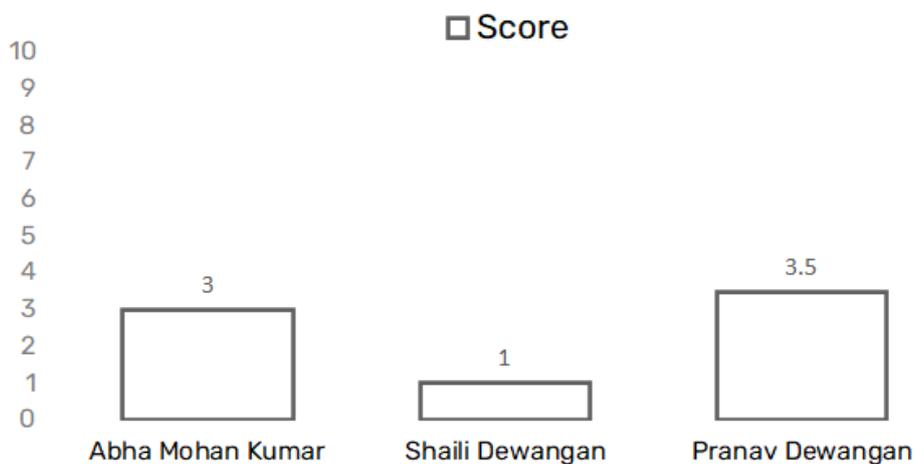

A small trigger can make such individuals feel threatened for their survival. And they are susceptible to mental health issues like depression, schizophrenia, etc.

Interns' vibratory level of the week

Our Interns reflect our complacency and hopelessness.

Content Production

Going it solo.
Our black hole.
Having more hands to help,
we do not seem to be able to

The Trainwreck

- Chetna and Swastim energies couldn't be nurtured and opened by the Counselling Lead
- Content continued to be a struggle from TP batches, despite 4 batches having graduated. Also despite 3 dedicated Interns for Content Production, production of Blogs, Case Studies, FAQs, Testimonials and Newsletters faltered
- Work on Student's Dashboard has still not started off
- OTP implementation has been lingering for very long, failing due to one reason or another
- Post-Production work on the Sleep app has to begin next week and we haven't been able to finalize an animator or a Post-Production house
- Mobile app alpha launch stands delayed

Movement towards next Quantum

A new process for Transcription and Time stamping has been initiated and will be streamlined and implemented next week.

A team of Freelancers will be hired for this purpose, and this would enable the team to move towards quality and insightful content.
